PROJECTS

FauxFlix | (React, Redux, Rails, Ruby, AWS, JavaScript, HTML5, CSS3) | Netflix Clone

live | github

- Leveraged polymorphic associations between videos hosted on AWS and the many genres in the rails backend to create DRY many-to-many relationships so the user can easily view videos by genre
- Secured site with BCrypt and React Router, limiting access of certain pages to registered users
- Integrated CRUD functionality with Redux state management allowing users to manage their video list
- Utilized React state to update volume icons, display accordion content, expand search bar, and play videos in response to user behavior, leading to a more polished, responsive user interface

Pomegranate | (MongoDB, Express, React, Node, Spoonacular API) | Recipe Generator App

- Employed custom HTTP API requests to Spoonacular, passing resulting payloads to React components as needed
- Implemented dynamic CSS prototyped in Photoshop to create clean, engaging, thoughtful design, improving user experience and unifying brand messaging
- Designed and engineered custom 404 landing page via React-Router to ensure consistent user experience (UX) and provide appropriate user feedback even when navigating unexpected frontend routes
